HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

Cybersecurity Enthusiast

I have a strong interest in cybersecurity, with a focus on data protection, digital infrastructure, and threat prevention. I actively explore emerging technologies, ethical hacking, and best practices for securing systems and networks. This passion drives my continuous learning and attention to digital safety in all aspects of work and business.

Passionate about Biotechnology & Pharmaceutical Research

Deeply passionate about the intersection of science, health, and innovation, I actively follow cutting-edge developments in biotechnology and pharmaceutical research. My key interests include longevity science, regenerative medicine, and the translation of laboratory research into real-world therapeutic solutions. After completing my studies at the Faculty of Economics, I plan to pursue a degree in Biotechnology and Drug Development at the University of Rijeka to further align my education with my scientific aspirations.
